DO YOU KNOW? BY: ELIZABETH NITSCHKE HICKS

MARKS AND BRANDS

Do you know about the Marks and Brands book that can usually be found in a courthouse? Most of us, as Texans, are familiar with cattle brands as in branding irons. The earlier form of this way of identifying cattle was the mark(s) made in the cattle's ears. Members of the same family would graze their cattle in the same place(s) as well as neighbors and a way to tell which cattle belonged to who had to be found. It was easy for a farmer/rancher to take a pocket knife from his pocket and quickly mark the ear of a new born calf.

Some years back I was in the Clarke County Alabama courthouse doing genealogy research and found a Marks and Brands book. This particular book had the marks for various people of Clarke Co. recorded in it. The marks of the Shamburger Family caught my eye due to the similarity. "Senior" Shamburger had a crop in his cattle's left ear, a son, had this same crop plus a slit, a son in law had same plus two slits (I checked deed books for bill of sale and found one to "Senior's" daughter). I also found marriage for this daughter to the registrant of this particular mark and yes indeedly, was the son in law. I must say that there were so many Shamburgers in Clarke Co. 1820-1850 that at least one mark I saw made those cattle's ears almost "ragged".

One can use Marks and Brands of an ancestor from one county to determine if related to a person with same surname in another county, and you can also use to separate people with the same name. As indicated above, relationships in and between families can be determined. When cattle were sold it appears that the mark or brand was altered in some way.

The Marks and Brand Book for Williamson Co., TX had a set of cattle ears pre-printed on the page in the book for the clerk to use. In the Clarke Co., AL book the clerk just drew a picture of a cow's ear with the identifying mark, described in writing the mark, who registered to and date.

Has anyone seen the Marks and Brands book(s) for Cherokee County? With the advent of barbed wire fencing and branding irons this practice became somewhat obsolete. Now we have registered cattle with those "tags" hanging from their ears and "tattoos of numbers".

EDITOR'S LETTER

Friends:

Just wanted you to know of something exciting which is going on that will benefit all genealogists, history researchers and those friendly, reference librarians who are so helpful to so many of us. I write asking you to help make this happen.

Have you heard of PGCS? Publishers Genealogical Coding Service is trying to convince all newspapers which publish obituaries to institute PGCS coding - to place a 15-character code - even as small as 4-point type (that preceding is 6-point) - in every obituary (death list or news item). The code will identify both the paper & the publication date! You can understand how useful this will be over the years ahead.

Get the full story, as I did, by registering with www.obituarycoding.com on the Internet or, if you prefer, write to PGCS - David W. Dole, 8102 Highwood Drive B-125 Bloomington MN 55438. It costs you nothing! It brings you a PGCS explanatory article, sample letters and an Application Form to send to newspapers.

Here are some quotations by both societies and individuals - their opinion about PGCS:

GENEALOGY National Genealogical Society Arlington VA 1995 - Carolyn J. Nell, President
The Council approved the recommendation to endorse your endeavor to convince publishers of obituaries...

Association of Professional Genealogists Washington, DC 1996 - Kay Germain Ingalls, CGRS, President
The Association of Professional Genealogists supports the goal of Publisher's Genealogical Coding Service.

Council of Genealogy Columnists Ocean Springs MS 1996 - Regina Hines Ellison, CGRS, President
... our Board has replied ... positive comments ... count on the support of the CGC in your endeavor.

Federation of Genealogical Societies Salt Lake City LIT 1996 - Curt B. Witcher, President
The Board of Directors of the Federation of Genealogical Societies, Inc. voted to fully endorse your efforts ...

Note: A representative of each: NGS, APG, CGC & FGS serves on PGCS's Steering Committee

HISTORY Ontario Historical Society - Willowdale ON - Jean Burnet, Editor, "Ontario History"
As an inveterate clipper of newspapers and user of the clippings of others, / applaud your PGCS. Undated clippings and ... source ... unknown clippings are extremely frustrating. Your system ... simple and sensible.

Ramsey County Historical Society St. Paul MN - Virginia Brainard Kunz
Your plan will be of immense help, not only to other writers and to librarians we often turn to for help but also to the thousands of genealogists who are riding the wave of this intense interest in a family's past.

LIBRARY Hennepin County Library Minneapolis MN - Charles M. Brown, Director
... your inventive & easy-to-use proposal offers a wealth of assistance to genealogical & other researchers

Monroe County Public Library Bloomington IN - Ms. Bobby Overman
I wish you good luck with PGCS and hope you get the support you need to establish this coding worldwide.

New Hampshire State Library Concord NH - Kendall Wiggin
Having spent years ... at public library reference desks, / know how frustrating it can be to track an obituary!"

'til next time.

ROBERTS, LOWE: After reviewing the 1860 and 1870 Cherokee Co. TX census records, I believe I have found the elusive Nancy Picola LOWE, born 21 Dec 1829 in TN, who married a ROBERTS (according to family info). In 1860, the family I located lived among many LOWE family members and only one house down from Nancy Picola's brother. Again, on the 1870 census, Nancy (now the head of household) is living among many LOWE relatives. Here is the info from the census: 1860 Cherokee Co. TX, page 433, family 300: William ROBERTS, age 36, farmer, born TN wife, Nancy, age 30, born TN children: J.H., age 9 male, born TN; C.L., male, age 6, born TX; Mary H., age 4, female, born TX; Cansada C. (sp?), age 2 female, born TX; and a farm worker named James IVY, age 25, born in NC. The 1870 Cherokee Co. TX census, page 220, family 382 lists: Nancy ROBERTS, age 39, b:TN children: Isaac H., age 18, b: TN; Charles L., age 17, born TX; Mary E., abt 14, b:TX; Cansada C. (sp?) age 13, b.: TX; William R.C., age 6, born TX; and John T., age 3, born in TX. Is this Nancy Picola LOWE? Thanks.

This will take some explaining, so I hope no one gets confused. ROBERT D. RUTHERFORD was born in 1811, KY-possibly Floyd County, or perhaps even TN. He was an early pioneer to TX as he received land in the Austin Colony issued Oct.30, 1839. He came from Hinds Co., MS where he appears on the Census there in 1830. He is listed in the Deed Abstracts of 1837-1852 with 640 acres dated Mar.31, 1840. While he does not appear on the 1840 Census, this is > probably due to a separation from his wife Harriet. Harriet E. Simpson, daughter of James A. Simpson, was born in AL, but married Robert in Hinds Co., MS. While it is plausible they had other children, their most noted was Christopher Columbus Rutherford born in Bastrop > County in 1839. He became an early pioneer doctor. Anyway! Robert and Harriet split. she sold off his land to pay for her son's schooling at Tulane in LA. They were divorced in 1846, as she appears as herself with her maiden name (she died in 1858, Robertson Co.) and he appears then in 1850 Census in Cherokee Co. with his second wife Martha ___, born 1812, KY. They had two daughters listed there, and judging by the birthdates, he must've married her right after or before his divorce. I surmise he and Martha were married in Nacogdoches County. I think Robert ends up in Travis County in 1860, but wasn't able to find out at the moment. Has anyone run across this family in Cherokee County. His daughters are Mary A. E. Rutherford and Rebecca Rutherford. I have found other Rutherfords there in Cherokee County but don't know their relationship, if any. This information has been a long time in piecing together, yet I have not found any Rutherford descendants to correspond with.

I drop you a line at your husbands request. He has had considerable poison in his wound for about a week; but it has now left him, and he is in every way doing well. Still, he says, he does not wish you to send for him at the time appointed through Captain Drake, nor can he name a time when it would be proper for you to send. He will give you notice when to send for him. The surgeon says my son Tom also is doing well though he will have to lie here some weeks longer before he can be moved.

NB: In the short time after the end of the war, word came to Texas on June 19, 1865 (Juneteeth) that the slaves were freed. The economy was in ruin. The former slaves were freed, but few had jobs or other ways to support themselves. It was a desperatte and confusing time for everyone.

Attention Gordon Bennett - Editor

Dear Mr. Bennett:

I came across a photo of the Alfred William Arnwine family that was taken in 1905 by C.W. Nichols of Jacksonville. This was apparently a family gathering, as my Grandmother Tennessee P. Arnwine is present and at that time lived in Mesilla Park New Mexico. The Arnwine family lived in Cherokee County for many years and many are buried there. If this is something you feel you would like to include in one of the editions of Tree Talk, please feel free to do so.

As a member of the Society I have certainly enjoyed the Tree Talk over the years.

Respectfully,

William C. Paine
